raiseRED ORGANIZATION

raiseRED is a student run non-profit organization at the University of Louisville that aims to raise money for pediatric cancer and blood disorders. 50% of those funds goes to patient's needs at the Norton Children's Cancer Institute (NCCI) while the other 50% of the donations goes to funding research at the UofL School of Medicine, specifically in the pediatric hematology and oncology division. Our goal is to raise as much money for the kids because our Kids Can't Wait!
